

Oliver King biography

Oliver is Director of Music and Organist at St Mary's Church, Saffron Walden, and combines this post with a busy and varied career as a conductor, performer and music therapist. He previously held full time posts as College Organist and Head of Vocal Studies at Wellington College and Chapel Organist at King William's College.

Oliver initially studied at the Royal College of Music and the Malmo Academy of Music. As a student he held the Michael James Trust Organ Scholarship to the church of St Martin-in-the-Fields. He is a prize winner of the Royal College of Organists and holds the Fellowship diploma. In 2010, Oliver pursued a Masters degree in Music Therapy at Anglia Ruskin University and currently works extensively as a music therapist specialising in working with people with learning disabilities and palliative care. As a performer, Oliver has performed throughout the UK, Europe and the US and maintains a specific interest in improvisation.
